KREBS CYCLE SUPPORT FORMULA

WHAT IS PYRUVATE SYSTEM?

Cyto-Charge Pyruvate System was designed to enhance the function of the Krebs Cycle (your main energy producing cycle concerned in the metabolism of protein, carbohydrates and fats).

ENHANCED BODY FAT REDUCTION

Pyruvate is formed during glucose metabolism and plays an important role in producing a chemical called Oxaloacetic Acid. The degradation of fatty acids via the Krebs Cycle occurs only as long as oxaloacetic acid is adequate. Therefore fat breaks down more efficiently when carbohydrate and fat break down together (fats burn in a carbohydrate flame). Pyruvate may also improve mitochondrial function and therefore enhance your ability to utilize fats and carbohydrates. We would conclude that Pyruvate in conjunction with proper training and diet may enhance your ability to decrease body fat and increase lean muscle mass.

ENHANCED ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE

Pyruvate System has accessory nutrients added in to enhance both short term (anaerobic / glycogen system), long term (aerobic / fatty acid) system, nitrogen transport to the liver, regulation of glucose and nitric oxide synthesis. This adds up to enhanced performance and faster recovery.
